SALZMAN FARM & RANCH

Cochise County, Arizona

8,381 Fee Acres

Offered by: Jack Doughty, Three Rivers Ag Investments

LOCATION

The Salzman Farm and Ranch sits at the north end of the White Water Draw of the Sulphur Springs Valley in Southeastern Arizona. Located on the east side of State Highway 191 at Rucker Canyon Road between State Highway 181 and the Town of Elfrida, Cochise County, Arizona.

DESCRIPTION

Highly productive farm and grasslands offering a vertically integrated cow calf, backgrounding/stocker grazing operation along with irrigated pasture and/or crop production for growing corn, cotton, small grains, hay, or feed inputs for feedlot facility.

ACREAGE

Deeded acres:	8,381 +/-
State Grazing Lease acres:	17,117 +/-
State Ag Lease acres:	942 +/-
BLM Grazing Allotment acres:	40 +/-
Adverse acres:	15,650 +/-
Total:	42,130 +/- (approx. 66 sections)

LAND USE

Irrigated fee acres:	2,300 +/-
Irrigated State Ag Lease acres:	158 +/-
Corners, roads and farmstead acres:	890 +/-
Grazing land acres:	38,782 +/-
NIA Acres:	3,790 +/-

CARRYING CAPACITY

1,100 animal units per year including ranch grazing land and crop residue, plus 1,000 head of stockers, subject to crop rotation.

IRRIGATION

There are 23 active irrigation wells delivering water to 23 center pivot sprinklers. Wells range from approximately 500'-1,200' deep with bowls set from 430'-500' deep, primarily powered by electric driven turbine or submersible irrigation pumps. All wells are interconnected for maximum sprinkler irrigation efficiency. Mostly Zimmatic pivots ranging in age from 2-8 years.

WATER RIGHTS

The Salzman Farm and Ranch is located within the Douglas Irrigation Non-Expansion Area ("Douglas INA"). As such, the farm holds certificates for Notice of Irrigation Authority ("NIA") for 3,790 acres. Holding water rights in an area that limits future irrigation expansion adds to the sustainability of irrigation water resources for the property.

SOILS

Farmland consists of Class II and III soils suitable for irrigated crop production typically grown in the area.
